

Solar PPA

Solar Power Purchase Agreements (PPAs) provide property owners with the ability to go solar with no upfront cost and be cash flow positive on day 1. The Bridgeport Islamic Community Center is on track to save nearly $3,000 in the first year with the PPA.

BICC

Bridgeport Islamic Community Center (BICC), located in Bridgeport, Connecticut, is a non-profit, religious organization serving the religious needs of all Muslims in the Greater Bridgeport area. In addition to regular prayer services, the BICC hosts a number of educational programs, social events, and interfaith activities with the Tent of Abraham and CONECT.

BICC is a tax-exempt, non-profit, religious organization established exclusively for religious, educational and charitable purposes.

The vision of BICC is to build a strong and coherent Islamic community where its members represent the Islamic faith by implementing and practicing the values our religion teaches which are committed to the dignity and prosperity of every human being.

BICC's mission is to serve the religious needs of all Muslims in the Greater Bridgeport area and ensure their integration in the American society.

IMPACT

System Size: 75kW

Annual Savings: $2,983

Helping BICC Improve

The 75 kW system will help to lower electricity costs, freeing capital to be used for renovation projects, saving approximately $2,983 annually. These savings are allowing BICC to make significant upgrades including:

- Upgrading Men's and Women's entrances
- Renovation Social Rooms
- Adding two new bathrooms to lower level
- Purchasing new furniture for the school
- Improving security and safety in the building
- Other various common area upgrades and repairs

These upgrades to the building and common areas improve BICC's ability to reach the community and hold events.

History of BICC

- The idea of building a comprehensive Islamic Center in Bridgeport area started around year 2000.
- BICC Incorporated in July 17 , 2002.
- Saturday School in University of Bridgeport (UB) masjid Started in early 2000 with 15 students, and in a couple of months 100 students were enrolled.
- University of Bridgeport (UB) provided Dana Hall for free one full year
- The School continued in Dana Hall till May 2007
- Al-Manar Center was bought in September 2005 for $307,000

New Islamic Center in 877 Park Avenue was bought in May 2017 for $1 million

About Con Edison

Con Edison, Inc. is committed to leading and delivering the transition to the clean energy future that their customers deserve and expect. They continue to work together with governments, customers, industry and stakeholders to help rapidly reduce the use of fossil fuels.

Con Edison's vision is for a clean, smart, and reliable energy future—for all our customers, our children, and future generations.

Inclusive Prosperity Capital, Inc.

75 Charter Oak Avenue, Suite 1-103 Hartford, CT 06106

O 203.433.5060 E info@inclusiveteam.org W inclusiveprosperitycapital.org